IMPORTANT TARIFF DECISION MADE

Domestic Liquors Withdrawn from Bond Since Aug. 28 Must Pay a Duty of $1.10 a Gallon.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 29 .- Secretary Carlisle to-day rendered a decision on the cuestion of the proper duty to be assessed on reimported domestic spirits. The Secretary holds that such spirits, withdrawn from bond after the date upon which the new tariff act went into effect, Aug. 28, are subject to a duty equal to the internal revenue tax imposed by that act, namely, $1.10 a gallon. The contention of the importers was that the duty to be assessed should equal the rate of internal revenue tax in force at the date of reimportation, which in this particular case was 90 cents a gallon. The Secretary concedes that if the duty had been paid at the time of importation, which was prior to Aug. 28, the duty would have been imposed according . to the rate of internal revenue tax existing at that date. It is learned that this decision will affect very large quantities of spirits which were exported just prior to the expiration of the three-year bonded per-iod and subsequently imported in order to take advantage of the additional bonded period permitted by the law.

Secretary Carlisle has made a decision in which he holds that the paragraph in the new tariff bill placing on the free list "fish, frozen or packed in ice fresh," does not apply to salt water fish inasmuch as the latter is specifically placed in the the latter is specifically placed in the dutiable schedules at the rate 1/2 of a cent per pound. In a letter to the Secretary of State United States Minister Buchanan at Buenos Ayres states that a report is current in that country that the Argentine government is likely to place either lumber, kerosene and agricultural implements on the free list or greatly reduce the duties thereon in compliment to the United States in placing wool on the free list. Mr. Buchanan expresses the opinion that such action on the part of the Argentine government, either in whole or largely, is doubtful.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 29.-The Mexican overnment, which originated a glowing scheme for the rehabilitation of silver as a money metal by the union of all the nations of the Western hemisphere with the great silver-using countries of Asia, has been obliged to defer for a time at least the preliminary stops. It was in contemplation to gather delegates from these countries at an international conference, to be held in the City of Mexico, and it was part of the plan to make it uncomfortable for European nations that persisted in holding to the single gold standard by negotiating trade and commercial treaties between the nations party to the confer-ence, allowing splendid trade advantages to silver-using countries. But all this has fallen through for the present, at least. The news comes from Mexico where President Diaz touched upon the subject in a message to Congress, in which, after describing the reforms he had inaugurated in the Mexican finances, he says: "Unfortunately, the plan thus made had to be deferred, the hostilities between the nations most deeply interested (China and Japan) having meanwhile supervened."

NOT BIG ENOUGH.

Many Applicants for Places in the Mail Service Too Small. WASHINGTON, Sept. 29 .- One of the requirements for the railway mail service is that applicants shall not be less than five feet four inches in height and 125 pounds in weight. Every applicant is required to undergo a physical examination by a physician, who is required, among other things, to measure and weigh the applicant. Recently the commission has adopted the practice of verifying the statements of the physicians by tests applied at the time of the scholastic examination. At Indianapo-lis, Ind., recently, out of a class of seventy competitors for the rallway mail service seven were found to be under the require-ments, either for height or weight, or both; and at Boston, out of a class of sixty-four there were also seven found to be below the standard. The commission promptly canceled their examinations, and they will be debarred from certification for appointments. The requirement as to height and weight was deemed by the railway mail authorities to be necessary in orare hysically incompetent for a proper discharge of the duties, and the Civilservice Commission is determined to contribute its part towards the maintenance of a high standard of physical capacity as well as intellectual attainment. It is also determined not to allow the service to be imposed upon by physical examinations in-differently made, or certificates which falsify the facts.

DUE TO THE DOCKERY LAW. Many Clerks in the Treasury Department Dismissed.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 29 .- The Dockery act passed at the last session of Congress for the reorganization of the clerical force and the methods of accounts in the Treasury Department will go into effect Oct. 1. This act reduced the clerical force of the | mills, machinery, water rights, leases and dismissals. The Secretary, uuring the past six months, has not called on the Civilservice Commission for any certifications to fill vacancies as they have occurred, preferring to retain as many of the old clerks possible. Some days ago forty-two clerks, drawing salaries ranging from $900 to $1:800 per year, were dropped from the rolls and to-day eighty-eight others were placed upon the temporary roll to do up back work, and when that is done, probably before the end of the calendar year, they also be dropped if not otherwise provided for. The new law abolishes two new whole divisions-the offices of Commissioner of Customs and that of the Second Controller of the Treasury-while the force in the First Controller's office will be materially reduced, the work being distri-buted among the other divisions. The statement is made at the Treasury Department that of the eighty-eight clerks who will be placed on the temporary rolls, fully fifty of the more efficient will be retained.

Mr. Lyman to Retire. NEW YORK, Sept. 29 .- A dispatch from Washington to the Evening Post states, on the authority of a man high in the councils of the administration, that Mr. Lyman will retire from the Civil-service Commission next week. Mr. Lyman was one of the original members of the commission. WASHINGTON, Sept. 29 .- Civil Service Commissioner Lyman to-day refused to affirm or deny the correctness of the Evening Post's special. He did not care, he said, to say anything on the subject. The com-mission now consists of two Republicans and one Democrat, and if a change is to occur it is regarded as likely to be due to a desire to have a majority of the commission of the political faith of the ad-ministration. The law says not more than two members of the commission shall be of the same political faith. General Notes.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 29 .- In payment of the interest due Oct. 1, 1891, on United States registered four-per-cent, consols of 1807 the treasury to-day mailed 28,832 checks, aggregating $4.896.058.

The following recess appointments were announced at the White House to-day: Archie M. O'Conner, collector of customs for the district of North and South Dakota; Thomas H. Studebaker, postmaster at McGregor, Ia.

SAN FRANCISCO. Sept. 29 .- The reappearance of Dr. Thomas E. Tynan, who mysteriously disappeared two years ago, and was absent until three days ago, will be the signal for an interesting suit in Stanislans county, where his estate, which is valued at $200,000, was distributed among his heirs, the Superior Court declaring him legally dead. His presence on the scene will make void all the proceedings against Doctor took brange of his first with

The stepdaughters sued Tynan's executor for the total value of the estate, and appealed to the Supreme Court from the decision giving a share to the second wife. MEMPHIS, Mo., Sept. 29.-W. E. Mc-Daniels, the informer, of Gorin (Mo.) train robbery fame, has been held to the grand jury in $1,500 bail on the charge of conspiring to rob a train. He pleaded not guilty to the information filed against him before the justice. C. F. Sanders, and has so far failed to secure a bondsman, his own father even refusing to go on the bond. McDaniels persists in his story that he had nothing to do with the planning, simply following Overfield's instructions and keeping the railroad 'company informed. He was brought from Topeka by detectives J. J. Kinney and Matthews, of the Santa Fe secret service, who, upon information that complaint had been made against him in behalf of the wounded and captured robbers, Abrams and Overfield advised him to surrender and accompanied

CLAIMS TO BE HOUNDED BY NEW YORK POLICEMEN.

Throat of the Lexovy Committee's Witness Cut in a Rendezvous of the "Green Goods" Swindlers.

NEW YORK, Sept. 29 .- George Appo, the Lexow committee witness, who "gave away" the doings of the "green goods" men and who was found, yesterday afternoon, in the North-river Hotel with his throat cut, was arraigned in the Tombs Police Court today. The cut in his throat is not a serious one. With Appo was arraigned Michael J. Reardon who, Appo now says, cut him. Appo was held for examination on a charge of having attempted suicide and Reardon was held for felonious assault.

In court Appo said that he went down to the North-river Hotel yesterday to serve some subpoenas for the Lexow committee. "While there I met the proprietor, Baar," continued Appo. "Baar's place was the rendezvous of the 'green goods' men. He used to get $10 for every 'guy' that was steered in there. Baar asked me to have a drink. He wanted to open a bottle of wine but I took whisky. Baar then asked me not to mention his place in any testimony I might give before the Lexow committee. I had two drinks and then became dizzy. The last thing I remember is seeing Reardon standing over me with I did not cut myself and made no attempt to stab Reardon. The next thing I remember was when they had me bound down in the Chambers-street Hospital. I wanted to free myself but one of the policemen standing over me threatened to gouge my eyes out. I have been a marked man ever since I was a witness before the Lexow committee. I was followed last week and when I pointed out the man who was after me to a policeman I got only the laugh for my pains."

In the court-room Appo stated to detective Lemon, who is in the employ of the Senate committee, that the police, in taking him to the station, the hospital and the Tombs, had handled him in a brutal manner. In confirmation he showed his left wrist, which was swollen to almost twice its natural size, and was so bruised and sore that the hospital physicians had thought best to bandage it. Lemon, who has been investigating the case, said emphatically that Appo had been drugged and assaulted with murderous intent, and that he had the proof of it.

Reardon and Baar repeated their story of yesterday that Appo went into the hotel crazy drunk and said his life was not worth $2. He said he would show he was square by cutting his throat, and tried to WISCONSIN PAPER AND PULP MILLS, VALUED AT $10,000,000.

Cost of Marketing the Product to Be Reduced by the Establishment of One Sale and Shipping Point.

APPLETON, Wis., Sept. 29.-The greatest syndicate deal since the purchase of the American breweries by English capitalists has just been concluded, and unless something unforeseen occurs all the paper and pulp mills on Fox river will pass into the hands of an English syndicate on April 1. It is learned from parties interested in the sale that every paper and pulp maker on Fox river, with two exceptions, has signed a contract giving options on all department 157, which necessitates many other property. The option is good for six months from Oct. 1. The two firms who have not yet signed have agreed to do so Monday. The reason for the delay is to gain time to complete schedules of the property, which must be attached to the options when delivered to the syndicate in

> The properties involved in the deal include twenty-nine paper and twenty-one pulp mills, situated at Neenah, Menasha, Appleton, Kimberly, Little Chute, Kaukauna, Combined Locks and Deeper, along Fox river for a distance of twenty-five miles. The value of these plants is estimated at $10,000,000. The daily product when run to the full capacity amounts to 1,300 miles of paper in a sheet seventy-six inches wide and 300 tons of pulp. The value of the product is about $50,000 daily. The terms of the option provide that the value of the plants be reckoned on a basis of actual cost of mills and machinery and present value of the water rights and leases, and the earning capacity of the mills as shown by the past business records. The payment for the properties is to be half cash and half in three years, to be secured by mortgages on the mills and power.

The deal has been worked up by Frank Butterworth, of Chicago. The project has been on foot several weeks. When first made public it met with considerable opposition. It was charged that Butterworth was acting entirely for himself; that he would get as many options as possible and then peddle them on the money market. Inquiry in England by interested parties, it is stated, exploded this theory. The original plan provided for the control of all plants in the State. It is believed that now that the Fox river plants, which com-prise three-fourths of the industry in the State, have been secured, the plants of the Wisconsin river and other districts, valued at $3,000,000, will also sell. In the management of the business under the new proprietors, the present active owners are to be retained as managers, as also are all heads of departments in the mechanical portion of the mills. The greatest change will be in the clerical departments. An office will be established at Chicago in which the business of the mills will be transacted. An immense warehouse will also be established there from which all sales and shipments will be made. In this

CABINET PLANT SALE

RECEIVER HAWKINS WILL AUCTION OFF THE CONCERN THURSDAY.

Little Hope for an Early Dividend to Bank Depositors - Trial of Schuyler Haughey.

The outlook for another dividend among the creditors of the Indianapolis National Bank is not at all encouraging, although the receiver is hopeful. The amount of the next dividend, if one is declared, will depend largely upon the disposition of the receipts from the sale of the Indianapolis Cabinet plant, which is advertised for next Thursday. Receiver Hawkins has had information to the effect that a company of Indianapolis capitalists, who understand the desk business, are preparing to purchase the plant at the auction sale and expect to bid it off at a figure something near its real value. This statement, however, is based upon rumor and nothing authentic is known. Should the cabinet works sell for $100,000 the funds will doubtless fall into litigation. There are sixty creditors of the Indianapolis Cabinet Company who have signified their intention of contesting the claim of the receiver for all of the money and have already employed attorneys to look after their interest. Should the courts decide that these creditors have a legal claim on a share of the receipts the receiver cannot hope to realize more than $60,000 out of the amount, conceeding that the plant brings $100,000 at public sale.

In the United States Court it has already been decided that the National Bank of Noblesville and the Cooper Insurance Company are liable to the receiver for the amount of stock held by them in the Indianapolis National. The Cooper Insurance Company held $8,000 worth of stock in the insolvent institution and the Noblesville bank was assessed for $12,000. Two New Hampshire banks have been found liable for their assessments, the suits against them being identical with those filed against the Indiana stockholders. Had these stock assessments been paid as directed by the court the funds already in the hands of the receiver would have been swelled materially. However, it is understood that the stockholders will appeal from Judge Baker and the case may remain pending in the higher courts for years. The amoun of money and good commercial paper now held by Receiver Hawkins would not aggregate a sufficient sum to justify a dividend and unless the judgments of the courts favor the receiver in the suits that will no doubt be brought within the next year an early dividend is out of the question.

The trial of Schuyler C. --aughey, for complicity in the wrecking of the Indian-apolis National Bank, will probably be called early in November. District Attor-Burke says that the statements to the effect that Haughey will not be tried until the Coffins have been disposed of by the United States Supreme Court is absurd and has no foundation whatever. The case, he says, has been delayed simply because of the inability of the court and attorneys in the cause to get at it. John R. Duncan, chief counsel for maughey, could not conveniently devote his time to hi client's interest during this month and the Baker now announces his intention of geting rid of a large grist of jail cases before taking up the more important ones hence the Haughey case cannot be considered next month. The trial will be short and the district attorney is of the opinion that the case will come up immediately after the adjournment of the federal grand jury in ness of the city why cannot the owners of rental property dispose of all except that to which they can give their personal supervision? Or, if they must place it in the hands of agents, why can they not stipulate firmly that for every nuisance reported by the Health Board the agent shall forfeit a pretty fair percentage of his commission. This latter plar would stimulate the evolution of the valuable faculty of observation in rental agents. It would save the time and strength of our overworked sanitary inspectors for more legitimate purposes. It would save money to the owner, for it is always far more economical to prevent the existence of a nuisance than to remove one that already exists. It would also save to the owner the friendship and respect of the neighbors, the Sanitary Association, the sanitary inspectors and the Health Board.

Philadelphia Times. At present nearly 1,000 girls in the public schools are studying cooking. While not a regular branch of the grammar school curriculum, each school is allowed to send a quota of pupils to the nearest cooking center. There are two kitchens estab-lished at the Girls' High School, and every young woman who now graduates from this thool receives a course of lessons in the theory and practice of cooking. The vis-itor can spend no more delightful afternoon than in one of these bright, cheerful kitch-ens, where the young girls of the public schools are being initiated into the mysteries of preparing baked apples and po-tatoes, beans and beets, omelets and oysters, comatoes and puddings and—a loaf of bread. The kitchens are models of comfort, convenience and completeness. To see paraphernalia, busily at work is one of the pleasant scenes which greet the visitor these early autumn days.
